

We are very excited to introduce our newest advanced holistic healing & first of its kind-embedded sound/light therapy devices –
The Rainbow SLT and the InfraRed SLT!

Now we can deliver Sound into any part of the human body, through the power of Light!

The profound nature of energy allows for transference of frequency from sound to light, and then back to vibration inside the tissues of the body.

Embedded sound travels through all body cells and light can transport the sound more deeply into the bones and connective tissue matrix(es) without physical limitations caused by scars, toxins, etc.† By using 18 high index array LEDs tuned to the full light spectrum, the body can now become the resonator and reservoir of sound. With the sound/light placed anywhere on the skin, the body will begin to absorb both the sound and the light.

Various wavelengths allow for whole body light/sound therapy.† The sound is carried through the light, into the body via subsonic transduction (the conversion of input energy of one form into output energy of another form.†) These sound/light (SLT) devices play any MP3 sound, frequency, or single tone file. Any mp3 format is compatible, and with the use of secondary speakers, you are able to hear the music simultaneously.

As you know, tuning forks are great to change harmonics within the body. However, they lose their effective tonal range as they slow down their vibration. With the SLT Sound Light Therapy unit, we will be able to produce high quality embedded frequency delivery that doesn't lose its effective range.† In fact, because its digital, the data can be profoundly different as compared to the total effect of tuning fork therapy.† Adding sound to the light and entering it into the body amplifies even more the natural healing to those body tissues.

By using the SLT, we will be able to provide any MP3 sound file toning into the body. We can apply the light/sound to chakras, acupuncture points, or any other part of the body that may be sore or inflexible to provide digital tuning.† This is the best wellness tuning fork ever!

We have two new Sound Light Therapy devices; one has 18 LEDs with 7 colors of the rainbow matching our chakras and the other is InfraRed with 18 LEDs of red and near-infrared.

They both may help:

- Improve skin tone and complexion
- Enhance circulation
- Enhance muscle recovery
- Reduce skin conditions, like acne, rosacea, and eczema
- Reduce pain & inflammation

BIONETIC HEALTH

Face it—a good energy level equals good health. When you have energy, you feel alive and vibrant. If you feel lethargic or depressed, your energy level is low. Your energy level has a direct correlation with not only how you feel but to how well the body can respond to stress. Historically, energy levels have been based merely on people's perceptions of how they feel; they would respond based on how energetic they felt, but those days are over.

There is a way not only to verify that your energy level may be sub-par but to help you recognize the energy that might be heading downward. This concept is new. NO one has really looked at the body's energy level in the literal sense by measuring how much of it there is because there hasn't been a way to measure it until now. Those levels can be measured through modern technology in the connective tissue and what is known as the Acupuncture Meridians.

Energy levels have a direct correspondence to your level of health. The body's energy system is more complex than we could ever imagine; it includes cell activity and intercellular communication—communication with every cell in the body. Each cell is connected bio-electrically through a complex web of connective tissue called the Biomatrix Network. This biomatrix (inside the connective tissue) can transfer information faster than the nerves can send messages. However, if this communication is hindered through injury, toxic buildup, insufficient nutrients, or what is called 'functional stress impairment,' the cells' ability to send and receive data becomes increasingly challenged because the biomatrix can't adequately carry messages.

The cells continue to produce, but over time, they can become increasingly weak—remember, each new cell is sparked by the one that is dying—it is a one-to-one transfer of energy. If that transfer is weak, that can become the beginning of energy loss and discomfort. It is the beginning of DIS-EASE in the body!

Using an advanced holistic process that blends ancient wisdom, biophysics, and biofeedback into a unique advanced science called Bionetics, you are taking advantage of one of the most unique and powerful modes of preventative health and wellness by assessing your Stress Markers and Energy Blueprint.

Using an advanced technology known as the SpectraVision, you can safely and easily discover weakened communication or stress patterns in the body before they can manifest as symptoms or illness. If there was a way to find out what could be occurring behind the scenes, wouldn't that be beneficial?
